THE MEDIEVAL AND RENAISSANCE DRAMA SOCIETY (MRDS)

The Medieval and Renaissance Drama Society is an academic association of scholars, artists, and other individuals interested in Medieval and Renaissance drama. The Society's activities include organizing annual meetings, sponsoring long-range research projects, and publishing material of interest to the membership. The annual journal ROMARD, and the Early European Drama in Translation Series (EEDTS) are publications affiliated with MRDS. The MRDS business meeting is held annually each May at the International Congress on Medieval Studies at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, Michigan. Members and non-members are invited to attend. Each year MRDS sponsors conference sessions at the Medieval Congress in Kalamazoo, the Modern Language Association Convention, and the Medieval Congress in Leeds, England.

MRDS members receive the Society's Newsletter twice a year and the annual issue of ROMARD. To join MRDS, please visit the Society's website (<http://themrds.org/membership>) or contact the MRDS Secretary/Treasurer Frank Napolitano at fnapolitano@radford.edu. Dues Structure: Regular Member (US $25); Student (US $10); Friend (US $50); Benefactor (US $100).

CENSUS OF PERFORMANCES OF MEDIEVAL AND EARLY MODERN PLAYS

Compiled by Elizabeth E. Tavares and Kyle A. Thomas

The table that follows details information on performances of medieval and early modern plays for the calendar year beginning January 1, 2021. Many of the productions listed were or will be archived online via digital platforms such as YouTube, Facebook, etc. We encourage our readers to do online searches of the information in the table to find any associated archival videos. If you would like to have a performance listed in the next edition of this census, please email the editor-in-chief, Kyle A. Thomas at kathomas@missouristate.edu.
